1.— Appeals against rejection of war pension claims made in respect of members of the naval, military or air forces.

(1) Where any claim in respect of the disablement of any person made under any such Royal Warrant, Order in Council or Order of His Majesty as is administered by the Minister or under a scheme made under [section 1 of the Polish Resettlement Act 1947]¹ is rejected by the Minister on the ground that the injury on which the claim is based—

(a) is not attributable to [any relevant service]²; and

(b) does not fulfil the following conditions, namely, that it existed before or arose during [any relevant service]³ and has been and remains aggravated thereby;

the Minister shall notify the claimant of his decision, specifying that it is made on that ground, and thereupon an appeal shall lie to [the appropriate tribunal]⁴ on the issue whether the claim was rightly rejected on that ground .

(2) Where, for the purposes of any such claim as aforesaid, the injury on which the claim is based is accepted by the Minister as fulfilling the conditions specified in paragraph (b) of the last foregoing subsection but not as attributable to [any relevant service]³ , the Minister shall notify the claimant of his decision, specifying that the injury is so accepted, and thereupon an appeal shall lie to the [appropriate tribunal]⁵ on the issue whether the injury was attributable to such service.

(3) Where any claim in respect of the death of any person made under any such Royal Warrant, Order in Council [, Order of Her Majesty or scheme]⁶ as aforesaid is rejected by the Minister on the ground that neither of the following conditions is fulfilled, namely—

(a) that the death of that person was due to or hastened by an injury which was attributable to [any relevant service]²;

(b) that the death was due to or hastened by the aggravation by [any relevant service]³ of an injury which existed before or arose during [any relevant service]³;

the Minister shall notify the claimant of his decision, specifying that it is made on that ground, and thereupon an appeal shall lie to the [appropriate tribunal]⁵ on the issue whether the claim was rightly rejected on that ground.

[(3A) The last foregoing subsection shall not apply to any claim made under any such Royal Warrant, Order in Council [, Order of Her Majesty or scheme]⁶ as aforesaid in respect of the death of a person who dies after the expiration of the period of seven years beginning with the end of [...] ⁸ [any relevant service]⁹ of that person, but where any such claim is rejected by the Minister on the ground that neither of the following conditions is fulfilled, namely—

(a) that the death of that person was due to or substantially hastened by an injury which was attributable to [any relevant service]¹⁰;

(b) that the death was due to or substantially hastened by the aggravation by [any relevant service]¹¹ of an injury which existed before or arose during [any relevant service]¹²;

the Minister shall notify the claimant of his decision, specifying that it is made on that ground, and thereupon an appeal shall lie to the [appropriate tribunal]⁵ on the issue whether the claim was rightly rejected on that ground.

(4) Where, in connection with the determination, for the purposes of any such claim as if referred to in the foregoing provisions of this section, of—

(i) the date by reference to which the rank of the disabled or deceased person is to be determined, or

(ii) in the case of a claim by or in respect of a widow, widower, [surviving civil partner,]¹³ wife, [husband, civil partner]¹⁴ or child, the date before which any marriage [or civil partnership]¹⁵ or any birth, legitimation or adoption of a child must have taken place [or been formed]¹⁶ , it is contended that, as the result of a particular period of [any relevant service]² , the disabled or deceased person suffered aggravation of the injury on which the claim is based, being aggravation which in the case of death persisted until death, the Minister shall, if he rejects the said contention, notify the claimant of his decision, and thereupon an appeal shall lie to the [appropriate tribunal]⁵ on the issue whether, as a result of such service during that period, the disabled or deceased person suffered such aggravation.

2.— Appeals against rejection of war pension claims made in respect of mariners, pilots, etc.

(1) Where any claim in respect of the disablement or death of any person made under any scheme made under section three, section four or section five of the Pensions \(Navy, Army, Air Force and Mercantile Marine\) Act 1939, as amended by the Pensions \(Mercantile Marine\) Act 1942, is rejected by the Minister on either or both of the following grounds, namely—

(a) that the disablement or death of the said person is not directly attributable to a war injury, war risk injury or detention;

(b) that the case is not one in which—

(i) the said person is to be treated for the purpose of the said section three as having sustained the injury or suffered the detention by reason of his service as a mariner in a British ship; or

(ii) the said person is to be treated for the purpose of the said section four as having sustained the injury or suffered the detention by reason of his service; or

(iii) the injury was sustained in the circumstances specified in a scheme made under the said section five or the detention was caused by reason of his service in a ship forming part of His Majesty's navy;

the Minister shall notify the claimant of his decision, specifying the ground or grounds of the rejection, and thereupon an appeal shall lie to the [appropriate tribunal]¹ on the issue whether the claim was rightly rejected on that ground or those grounds.

(2) Where the Minister rejects any such claim as aforesaid on one of the grounds specified in the last foregoing subsection and an appeal is brought from his decision,—

(a) the Minister may notify the appellant before the hearing of the appeal that he also rejects the said claim on the other ground so specified, and thereupon the [appropriate tribunal]¹ shall treat the appeal as an appeal on the issue whether the claim was rightly rejected on both the said grounds;

(b) unless the Minister notifies the appellant as aforesaid, he shall not be entitled, if the appeal is allowed, subsequently to reject the said claim on the said other ground.

3.— Appeals against rejection of war pension claims made in respect of civil defence volunteers and other civilians.

(1) Where any claim in respect of the incapacity for work, disablement or death of any person made under any scheme made under section one of the Personal Injuries \(Emergency Provisions\) Act 1939 is rejected by the Minister on the ground that the incapacity for work or the disablement was not caused by, or the death was not the direct result of, a war injury, or, in the case of a civil defence volunteer, a war service injury, the Minister shall notify the claimant of his decision, specifying that it is made on that ground, and thereupon an appeal shall lie to the [appropriate tribunal]¹ on the issue whether the claim was rightly rejected on that ground.

(2) Where an appeal is brought under the last foregoing subsection in any case where the Minister has refused to certify an injury sustained by a civil defence volunteer as a war service injury or has revoked such a certificate, the [appropriate tribunal]¹ shall consider whether it is a physical injury (as defined by section five of the Pensions \(Mercantile Marine\) Act 1942) which arose out of and in the course of the performance by the volunteer of his duties as a member of the civil defence organisation to which he belonged at the time when the injury was sustained, and (except in the case of a war injury), did not arise out of and in the course of his employment in any other capacity, and if they decide that question in the affirmative, the injury shall be deemed for the purposes of the Personal Injuries \(Emergency Provisions\) Act 1939 and any scheme made thereunder to have been certified by the Minister as a war service injury.

4.— Appeals in cases where award is withheld or reduced on ground of serious negligence or misconduct.

(1) Where, in the case of any such claim as is referred to in section one, section two or section three of this Act in respect of the incapacity for work, disablement or death of any person, the Minister withholds or reduces the award on the ground that the injury or detention on which the claim is based was caused or contributed to by the serious negligence or misconduct of the said person or, as the case may be, that his death was so caused or contributed to, the Minister shall notify the claimant of his decision, specifying that it is made on that ground, and thereupon an appeal shall lie to the [appropriate tribunal]¹ on the issue whether the injury or detention or, as the case may be, the death was so caused or contributed to.

(2) Where an appeal is brought under this Act on any of the issues specified in section one, section two or section three, and the Minister notifies the appellant before the hearing of the appeal that, if the appeal is allowed, he intends to withhold or reduce the award on the ground specified in the last foregoing subsection, the [appropriate tribunal]¹ shall, if they allow the appeal, determine the issue specified in that subsection, and unless the Minister notifies the appellant as aforesaid, he shall not be entitled, if the appeal is allowed, to withhold or reduce the award on the said ground.

5.— Appeals against assessment of extent of disablement.

(1) Where, in the case of any such claim as is referred to in section one, section two or section three of this Act in respect of the disablement of any person, the Minister makes an interim assessment of the degree of the disablement, he shall notify the claimant thereof and [...] ¹ an appeal shall lie to the [appropriate tribunal] ² from the interim assessment [...] ¹ and from any subsequent interim assessment, and the [appropriate tribunal] ² on any such appeal may uphold the Minister's assessment or may [alter the assessment in one or both of the following ways, namely—] ³

(a) by increasing or reducing the degree of disablement it specifies; and

(b) by reducing the period for which the assessment is to be in force.

In [this section] ⁵ the expression " interim assessment" means any assessment other than such a final assessment as is referred to in the next following subsection.

(2) Where, in the case of any such claim as is referred to in section one, section two or 4 of this Act in respect of the disablement of any person, it appears to the Minister that the circumstances of the case permit a final settlement of the question to what extent, if any, the said person is disabled, and accordingly—

(a) he decides that there is no disablement or that the disablement has come to an end or, in the case of any such claim as is referred to in section three of this Act, that the disablement is not or is no longer serious and prolonged; or

(b) he makes a final assessment of the degree or nature of the disablement;

he shall notify the claimant of the decision or assessment, stating that it is a final one, and thereupon an appeal shall lie to the [appropriate tribunal] ⁶ on the following issues, namely—

(i) whether the circumstances of the case permit a final settlement of the question aforesaid;

(ii) whether the Minister's decision referred to in paragraph (a) hereof or, as the case may be, the final assessment of the degree or nature of the disablement, was right;

and the [appropriate tribunal] ⁶ on any such appeal may set aside the said decision or assessment on the ground that the circumstances of the case do not permit of such a final settlement, or may uphold that decision or assessment, or may make such final assessment of the degree or nature of the disablement as they think proper, which may be either higher or lower than the Minister's assessment, if any [and if the [appropriate tribunal] ⁶ so set aside the Minister's decision or assessment they may, if they think fit, make such interim assessment of the degree or nature of the disablement, to be in force until such date not later than two years after the making of the [appropriate tribunal's] ⁸ assessment, as they think proper] ⁷.

(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, an appeal shall lie to the appropriate body from any decision of a Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Scotland or Northern Ireland under any of sections 1 to 5A of this Act on the ground that the decision was erroneous in point of law.

(1A) For the purposes of this section “ the appropriate body” means—

(a) in relation to a decision of a Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Scotland, the Upper Tribunal; and

(b) in relation to a decision of a Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Northern Ireland—

(i) the Upper Tribunal in the case of a decision under section 5 of this Act; and

(ii) a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner in any other case.

(2) An appeal shall lie under this section at the instance of the person who appealed to the [Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Scotland or Northern Ireland]⁴ or of the Minister.

(3) If each of the parties to [an appeal under this section to a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]⁵ expresses the view that the decision appealed against was erroneous in point of law, the Commissioner may set aside the decision and refer the case to [a Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Northern Ireland]⁶ with directions for its determination.

(4) Where [an appeal is made to a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner and]⁷ the Commissioner holds that the decision appealed against was erroneous in point of law, he shall set it aside and—

(a) he shall have power—

(i) to give the decision which he considers [the Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Northern Ireland]⁸ should have given, if he can do so without making fresh or further findings of fact; or

(ii) if he considers it expedient, to make such findings and give such decision as he considers appropriate in the light of them;

and

(b) in any other case he shall refer the case to [a Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Northern Ireland]⁹ with directions for its determination.

(4A) [Section 12 of the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007 (proceedings on appeal to Upper Tribunal) applies in relation to appeals to the Upper Tribunal under this section as it applies in relation to appeals to it under section 11 of that Act, but as if references to the First-tier Tribunal were references to the Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Scotland or Northern Ireland.

(5) Subject to any direction of [the Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]¹¹, a reference under subsection (3) or (4)(b) above shall be to a differently constituted [Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Scotland or Northern Ireland]¹².

(5A) No appeal lies under this section to the Upper Tribunal without the leave of the Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Scotland or Northern Ireland concerned, or of the Upper Tribunal, on an application by the party.

]¹³

(6) No appeal lies [to a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]¹⁴ without the leave—

(a) of the person who constituted, or was the chairman of, [the tribunal concerned]¹⁵ when the decision was given;

(b) of the President or Deputy President of Pensions Appeal Tribunals for [Northern Ireland]¹⁶; or

(c) subject to and in accordance with regulations, of [a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]¹⁷.

(7) Regulations may make provision as to the manner in which, and the time within which, appeals [to a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]¹⁸ are to be brought and applications made for leave [to bring such appeals]¹⁹.

(8) Subject to section 6C of this Act, a decision of a [Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]²⁰ under this Act shall be final and conclusive.

(10) Where it appears convenient to do so by reason of a subsequent change of residence by the person who appealed to the appropriate tribunal under [section 1, 2, 3, 4 or 5A, the Upper Tribunal may direct that an application or appeal to it]²² under this section be transferred to a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner; and vice versa.

6B Redetermination etc of appeals by [appropriate tribunal]²

(1) Subsections (2) and (3) apply where an application is made to—

(a) a Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Scotland or Northern Ireland under section 6A\(5A\) of this Act, or

(b) a person under section 6A\(6\)\(a\) of this Act, for leave to appeal from a decision of the tribunal concerned.

(2) If [the tribunal or person to whom the application is made]⁴ considers that the decision was erroneous in point of law, [that tribunal or person]⁵ may set aside the decision and refer the case either for redetermination by [the tribunal concerned]⁶ or for determination by a differently [constituted Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Scotland or Northern Ireland]⁷.

(3) If each of those who would be parties to the appeal if leave were granted expresses the view that the decision was erroneous in point of law, [the tribunal or person to whom the application is made]⁸ shall set aside the decision and refer the case for determination by a differently [constituted Pensions Appeal Tribunal for Scotland or Northern Ireland]⁹.

(4) Subsection (5) applies where an application is made to the First-tier Tribunal for permission to appeal to the Upper Tribunal from any decision of the First-tier Tribunal under this Act.

(5) If each of those who would be parties to the appeal if permission were granted expresses the view that the decision was erroneous in point of the law, the First-tier Tribunal shall set aside the decision and refer the case for determination by a differently constituted First-tier Tribunal.

6C Appeals from Commissioner

(1) Subject to subsection (2) below, a party to an appeal under section 6A of this Act may appeal on a question of law to the appropriate court from a decision of [a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]² under that section.

(2) No appeal under this section shall lie from a decision except—

(a) with the leave of the Commissioner who gave the decision or, in a case prescribed by regulations, [a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]² selected in accordance with regulations; or

(b) if he refuses leave, with the leave of the appropriate court.

(3) On an application to [a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]² for leave under this section it shall be the duty of the Commissioner to specify as the appropriate court—

(a) the Court of Session if it appears to him that the person who appealed to [the tribunal concerned]³ is ordinarily resident in Scotland;

(b) the Court of Appeal in Northern Ireland if it appears to him that that person is ordinarily resident in Northern Ireland;

(c) the Court of Appeal if it appears to him that that person is ordinarily resident elsewhere.

But if it appears to the Commissioner, having regard to the circumstances of the case and in particular to the convenience of the persons who may be parties to the proposed appeal, that he should specify a different court mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (c) above as the appropriate court, it shall be his duty to specify that court as the appropriate court.

(4) Regulations may make provision as to—

(a) the manner in which, and the time within which, applications to [a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]² for leave to appeal under this section must be made;

(b) the procedure for dealing with such applications.

[6D Procedure in proceedings before Commissioner

(1) Regulations may make, for the purposes of proceedings under this Act before a Commissioner, any provision which may be made by procedure regulations under [Article 16 of the Social Security (Northern Ireland) Order 1998]² for the purposes of proceedings under [that Order]³ before [a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]⁴.

(2) The Lord Chancellor may by regulations provide—

(a) for officers authorised by the Lord Chancellor [...] ⁵ to make any determinations which fall to be made by [Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioners]⁶ ;

(b) for the procedure to be followed by such officers in making such determinations;

(c) for the manner in which such determinations by such officers may be called in question.

(3) Regulations prescribing the procedure to be followed in cases before [a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]⁴ shall provide that any hearing shall be in public except in so far as the Commissioner for special reasons otherwise directs.

(4) If it appears to [a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]⁴ that a matter before him involves a question of fact of special difficulty, he may direct that in dealing with that matter he shall have the assistance of one or more experts.

In this subsection “ expert ” means a person appearing to the Commissioner to have knowledge or experience which would be relevant in determining the question of fact of special difficulty.

(5) If it appears to [the Chief Social Security Commissioner appointed under the Social Security Administration (Northern Ireland) Act 1992]⁷ (or, in the case of his inability to act, to such other of the [Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioners]⁸ as he may have nominated to act for that purpose) that—

(a) an application for leave under section 6A\(6\)\(c\) of this Act, or falling to be heard by one of the [Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioners]⁸ involves a question of law of special difficulty, he may direct that the application or appeal be dealt with, not by that Commissioner alone, but by a tribunal consisting of two or more [Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioners]⁸.

(b) an appeal,

If the decision of the tribunal is not unanimous, the decision of the majority shall be the decision of the tribunal; and the presiding Commissioner shall have a casting vote if the votes are equally divided.

(6) Regulations may make provision with respect to— (a) the correction of accidental errors in any decision or record of a decision of [a Northern Ireland Social Security Commissioner]⁴ under this Act; and

(b) the setting aside of any such decision in a case where it appears just to set the decision aside on the ground that—

(i) additional evidence is available;

(ii) a document relating to the proceedings in which the decision was given was not sent to, or was not received at an appropriate time by, a party to the proceedings or a party's representative or was not received at an appropriate time by the Commissioner; or

(iii) a party to the proceedings or a party's representative was not present at a hearing related to the proceedings.

(7) Nothing in subsection (6) above shall be construed as derogating from any power to correct errors or set aside decisions which is exercisable apart from regulations made by virtue of that subsection.

(8) Except so far as it may be applied in relation to [...] ⁹ Northern Ireland by regulations, Part 1 of the Arbitration Act 1996 shall not apply to any proceedings under this Act.

7.— Application of Act to past decisions and assessments.

(1) This Act shall apply in cases where any such decision of the Minister as is referred to in section one, section two, section three or section four of this Act has been made before the passing of this Act, and in cases where any such decision or assessment as is referred to in section five of this Act has been made before that section comes into operation, and no further notification of any such decision or assessment as is referred to in any of the said sections shall be necessary in any such case, but the Minister shall take such steps as he considers necessary to bring the rights of appeal conferred by this Act to the notice of persons affected by any such decision or assessment.

(2) [Subject to subsection (2A) of this section, a]¹ny decision of the Minister given before the passing of this Act which corresponds, apart from any difference arising from the terms of the Royal Warrant, Order in Council or Order of His Majesty, as the case may be, in force when the decision was made, with such a decision as is referred to in section one of this Act, shall be deemed, for the purposes of this Act, to be such a decision, and an appeal shall lie therefrom accordingly.

(2A) Subsection (2) of this section shall not apply in relation to any decision given by the Minister before the passing of this Act which corresponds, apart from any difference of the kind referred to in that subsection, with such a decision as is referred to in section 1 of this Act in respect of claims made under the scheme referred to in that section.

5.—

(1) Subject as aforesaid, [rules may be made]¹ with respect to—

- (a) the manner of hearing of appeals by [Tribunals]² and in particular appeals in cases where the appellant owing to illness or other cause is not present at the hearing;
- (b) the mode of proof and admissibility of evidence;
- (c) the representation of the appellant and the Minister at the hearing;
- (d) the recording and proof of the decisions of the Tribunals;

and such other matters relating to the practice and procedure of the Tribunals as the [person making them]³ thinks fit.

(1A) Such rules are to be made by the following person—

[...]⁵

- (b) if the rules relate to Scotland, by the Lord President of the Court of Session;
- (c) if the rules relate to Northern Ireland, by the Lord Chief Justice of Northern Ireland.

]⁴

(2) Such rules shall provide for the disclosure of all such documents (whether in the possession of a government department or not) as are necessary for disposing fairly of the appeal, subject to such exceptions and conditions as the rules may prescribe in the public interest, and shall provide for making available to the appellant copies of all documents produced to the Tribunal in connection with the appeal except where the Tribunal considers it undesirable in the interests of the appellant.

(3) Such rules may provide for the taking of medical and other expert advice by the Tribunals but shall require that such advice shall be disclosed to the appellant except where the Tribunal considers it undesirable in the interests of the appellant.

[(3A) Such rules may make provision with respect to—

- (a) the correction of accidental errors in any decision or record of a decision of the Tribunal under this Act; and
 - (b) the setting aside of any such decision in a case where it appears just to set the decision aside on the ground that—
 - (i) additional evidence is available;
 - (ii) a document relating to the proceedings in which the decision was given was not sent to, or was not received at an appropriate time by, a party to the proceedings or a party's representative or was not received at an appropriate time by the Tribunal; or

(iii) a party to the proceedings or a party's representative was not present at a hearing related to the proceedings.

Nothing in this sub-paragraph shall be construed as derogating from any power to correct errors or set aside decisions which is exercisable apart from rules made by virtue of this sub-paragraph.

(3B) Such rules may make provision with respect to the rehearing of an appeal where a decision has been set aside under rules made by virtue of sub-paragraph (3A)(b) above.

(3C) Rules under this Schedule may—

(a) make provision with respect to the striking out or reinstatement of proceedings before the Tribunal;

(b) provide that where an appeal to the Tribunal under this Act is struck out in pursuance of such rules no further appeal under this Act shall be brought in respect of the matters to which the struck-out appeal related except with leave given in pursuance of such rules.

]⁶

(4) Such rules shall provide for the payment by the Tribunal of:—

(b) sums, in respect of expenses, allowances and fees connected with appeals to the Tribunal, to such persons and in such circumstances as are specified in the rules and of such amounts as are determined by the Lord Chancellor [, or in relation to Scotland by the Lord President of the Court of Session, in either case]⁹ with the consent of [the Treasury]¹⁰ [.]¹¹

]⁸

(5) All such rules shall be laid before Parliament as soon as may be after they are made, and if either House, within the period of forty days beginning with the day on which any such rules are laid before it, resolves that the rules be annulled, they shall thenceforth become void, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder or to the making of new rules.
